successful as the score was 52 when the second wicket fell. Harding 8 and Parvis a well played wards Maitland was very fairly caught at ton's bowling. A. J. Leach had turned up by this time, and he with the assistance of G.

Enckiel Sput a somewhat better appearance upon the game; the innings closing for 145, of which Leach contributed 21, when he was well caught by Young at the wicket. Being in a minority of 132 the Club had to follow on and Low son and Coron played so well that this deficit had been reduced to 45 before Coxon was bowled by Railton for a carefully compiled 42-one for followed was very disappointing and can only be accounted for by the fact that a great deal of the interest had been taken out of the game, all hope of winning being of course out of the question for the Club. Leach was run out through a to stop a straight 'un with his leg. Taverner was bowled by Newton, and Harding and Eames second innings of the Club amounted to 181, ing the afternoon of the second day :-

In another column we reproduce a letter addressed by Mr. W. V. DRUMMOND to our Shanghai morning contemporary in which he makes some rather important statements. Indeed, if his information is reliable, there would seem to have been a real conspiracy after all against the established order of things in China. Mr. DRUMMOND says that it was planned, by the Kolao Hui presumably, to commence an outbreak by an at- insincerity of the officials. Mr. Mason's tale should prove true, it does not by any means follow that the recent riots were the work of the Kolao Hui, or had even before the period fixed for the proposed outbreak, but no connection between the two sets of circumstances has been proved. Mr. DRUMMOND's theory was that the riots were planned in order to involve the termination of her charter to the British Go-Central Government with the Treaty Powers, but according to Mason the Kolao Hui had ne antipathy to foreigners, but on the contrary desired extended foreign intercourse and trade. Morever, there is indubitable ed that none of the gunboats on the river could proof that these riots were incited by incendiary publications, written and published in with the river at its low water level. THE BISHOP OF EXETER AT THE CATHEDRAL.

On Sunday morning, to a crowded congrega tion, the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Exeter prouched in the Cathedral. Taking for his text ! the familiar words of the 12th verse of the first chanter of the Epistle to the Colossians." Giving rison are rather unusually strong, especially in thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet the batting line, whilst the absence of members to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints," from the colony renders the Club somewhat the distinguished prelate delivered an earnest weaker than they have been for some seasons and eloquent discourse. The verse, he said, was past. On Friday afternoon Dr. Lowson, who a fragment of a prayer of St. Paul so great in was acting as skipper in the absence of the its power and so rich in its love that he pitied the captain of the side, beat Captain Dunn in man who could read it without feeling deeply the tess for choice of innings, and here the humbled. There was no opportunity given for the apolicial members to state whether Friday would be a convenient day or not, because the intimation assumed more the nature of a command than a request, but I then fully believed that I would be able to be here on Friday. I was grioved, very much grioved, to read in the papers of last night and this morning the serious and grave charges which your Excellency has thought fit to bring against certain unofficial members of antagonism to the Government and of obstruction.
